Tip #4: Compelling Summary

I am broadly interested in the application of quantitative modeling and data science in various product and business domains, such as: growth analytics, user profiling, recommender systems, demand forecasting, capacity planning, supply chain management, pricing & revenue management, etc. I enjoy standing at the intersection of business (I interact with business stakeholders and senior leadership team), technology (I wrote production code), and math (I build complex stats/optimization/machine learning models). My career passion is to help make product and business operations smarter through innovative and practical analytics.

Specialties:

• Data science, analytics, machine learning, optimization, applied statistics, simulation
• Cross-cultural communication, leadership, project management
• Python, R, SQL, Matlab

Experience

Airbnb
6 yrs 9 mos

Director, Head of Data Science
Jun 2016 – Present · 2 yrs 9 mos
Currently leading Airbnb’s team of 100+ Data Scientists.

Data Science Manager
Oct 2013 – Jun 2016 · 2 yrs 9 mos
As one of the first data scientists at Airbnb, I have worked tirelessly to create a data-informed culture at the company. My expertise is in growing and supporting top data science teams to drive impact. After building the data team working on searching, booking, and pricing, I started a new team focused on supply, growing the team from 1 to 10 in six months. We work closely with the product team, as well as with operational teams and government relations, to create a vibrant host community around the world.

I also manage data science on experimentation. We are building a word-class experimentation platform, inventing new ways to improve experimentation both on the website and in our offline efforts. Through this work, we automate data science.

Trick! Add sections

How to:
- Me> View Profile
- Add profile section
Tip #9: Use Keywords

- Keywords: search words people use to find YOU
  - Know your “keywords” – use job postings and other LI profiles as a guide.
  - Don’t overdo it- be honest and accurate, don’t “stuff”!
    - “More keywords aren't always better”
    - Goal: “Members consider your profile relevant to their search” - (LI Help)
  - Write your profile for PEOPLE, not search engines.
Beyond the Profile
Tip #10: Grow Your Network

- Friend who works at Facebook
- I School instructor
- Colleague from current job
- I School classmate
- Panelist from I School event
Tip #11: Customize Invitations

LinkedIn members are more likely to accept invitations that include a personal note.
Tip #12: Follow & Join

Group Guidelines for Jobseekers

• Join a group that takes you where you want to go, not one that keeps you where you are.
• Participate. Post and respond to discussions. Be positive, show your motivation.
• If you are unemployed, don’t try to hide or flaunt your status. Be honest about where you are and what you are looking for.
• Identify leaders in the group and determine whether they could be valuable connections or information sources; if so, invite them to connect.
Trick! Follow Influencers
