

MusicMate

Where Your Music Career Grows

The Problem

Despite the ever expanding music industry and the growing population of music lovers and artists, there is no dedicated networking space made for these people to connect, share artwork, or find opportunities.

The Solution

MusicMate is a mobile web application made by music lovers for music lovers. Think LinkedIn for independent musicians. MusicMate offers its users a place to shine, exchange ideas, and find gigs to take their music career to the next level.
