Accessibility, Equity, and Resources for Crisis Response

a mobile web app that provides mental health crisis response for those who have barriers to emergency help

Amanda Kochak, Nailah Hill, Priyanka Dasgupta, V de la Vega

80% or more of 911 calls don’t require a police response

48 million people in the US called 911 in 2021 for mental health related crises

46% of suicide cases had a known mental health condition who will benefit from our solution?

1 goes to the right place
2 reduces time to receive help 3 saves the caller from having to repeat their mental health emergency

“this will also be so helpful for domestic violence, since you don’t have to use your voice to get help”

BIPOC firefighter + domestic violence survivor